Excerpts of the Activity:

The 40th Commencement Exercises of Camarines Sur Polytechnic Colleges marked the triumphant culmination of the academic journey for Batch Talaghay. This significant event celebrated an extensive endeavor of education, filled with sacrifices, challenges, and ultimately, success for the graduating students.

Even before the main commencement exercises, dedicated volunteer student-facilitators played a crucial role in ensuring a seamless flow for the upcoming ceremonies. Led by the CSPC – Supreme Student Council (SSC), alongside College Student Councils (CSCs) and Department-Based Organizations (DBOs), these student volunteers diligently aided in graduation rehearsals. Their proactive involvement was key to anticipating and resolving potential issues before the big day.

On June 25, 2025, student-facilitators began their work, meticulously coordinating the rehearsals for graduates from Masters of Engineering (ME), the College of Engineering and Architecture (CEA), and the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS). A primary challenge encountered on this day was the uncooperative nature of some graduates, which led to an unorganized seating arrangement. This early experience provided valuable lessons for subsequent rehearsals.

Learning from the previous day's challenges, the June 26, 2025, rehearsals for graduates from Masters of Arts in Nursing (MAN), Masters in Nursing Education (MNE), the College of Health Sciences (CHS), and the College of Computer Studies (CCS) proceeded much more smoothly. Student-facilitators provided excellent assistance, ensuring a harmonious and efficient flow.

The final day of rehearsals, June 27, 2025, saw student-facilitators extending their help to graduates from Doctor of Philosophy in Business Management (PhDBM), Master in Business Management (MBM), the College of Tourism, Hospitality, and Business Management (CTHBM), the College of Technological and Developmental Education (CTDE), and the CSPC – Buhi Campus. Similar to the second day, an orderly flow was evident, demonstrating the positive impact of organized preparation.

On July 7, 9, and 10, 2025, the actual commencement exercises took place. Despite the intense heat outside the venue, the volunteer student-facilitators diligently performed their responsibilities, striving to ensure a seamless flow for all attendees. They endured the sun's glare to maintain organized lines for the processional. However, challenges arose when some graduating students, due to the heat, initially refused to line up, making the facilitators' task of organization more difficult.

During the processional, concerns included students not adhering to their assigned seating arrangements and a temporary lack of available seats. Within the program itself, issues such as an unoriented and uncoordinated flow for the investiture of graduates presented further challenges, making it difficult for facilitators to maintain a smooth and organized program.

Attendees at the event greatly appreciated the convenience of our bottled water sales, finding it an affordable and readily available option to quench their thirst. This successful income-generating project not only met a key need but also provided essential funds for the council's future endeavors.

Despite the hurdles, the overall facilitation of the 40th Commencement Exercises was ultimately a success. The dedication and perseverance of the student-facilitators were instrumental in navigating the complexities of such a large-scale event, ensuring that Batch Talaghay could celebrate their hard-earned achievements.

Benefits Derived:

- Enhanced Organizational Skills. The student-facilitators gained invaluable experience in event management, crowd control, and problem-solving under pressure. This hands-on involvement significantly enhanced their organizational and leadership skills, which are crucial for future endeavors.
- Promoted Teamwork and Collaboration. The successful execution of the commencement exercises was a testament to the strong teamwork and collaboration among the CSPC – Supreme Student Council (SSC), College Student Councils (CSCs), and Department-Based Organizations (DBOs). This event fostered a sense of unity and collective responsibility among the student bodies.
- Ensured a Memorable Experience for Graduates. Despite the challenges, the diligent efforts of the student-facilitators ensured that the 40th Commencement Exercises remained a memorable and dignified event for Batch Talaghay. Their hard work contributed significantly to the smooth flow of the ceremonies, allowing graduates and their families to fully celebrate this significant milestone.
