Excerpts of the Activity:

The integration of SIKLAB Booths: Pasiklabang Lokal was a crucial strategic move by the CSPC Supreme Student Council to transform the CSPC Intramurals 2025 into a vibrant, campus-wide celebration. By inviting various outside entities, the organization remained committed to enhancing the overall participant and student experience, successfully drawing greater attendance and engagement from the entire CSPC community. This initiative effectively elevated the intramurals from a purely athletic event to a dynamic, festive marketplace, ensuring that SIKLAB 2025 became a memorable celebration of school spirit and unity. Despite the persistent rainy weather that occurred throughout the week of November 23–27, 2025, the event pushed through with unwavering resolve, proving the resilience of the student body and the importance of this local partnership.

These external collaborations provided tangible financial and experiential benefits, fostering a collaborative impact between the students and local businesses from the Bicol region. For the students involved, coordinating with these outside businesses offered valuable, practical exposure to event management, sales, and idea generation. This component turned the campus into a central gathering point that benefited both the college community and local enterprises, strengthening the institution's connection to the locality while fostering a deep spirit of cooperation. The physical landscape of the campus was redefined by the presence of seventeen diverse participants, namely: Dulce de Maria, Frukt Skaka, Don Machiattos, Ethans, KRAFT HUB, Liters, The Dream Table, Dos Barakos, Kopitap, Thrifty Beans, Slow Drip Society, Pepper, Fleurbar.LGP., Modern Clara, The KRT Café, Espresso, and Noy Slowbar Cafe.

Ultimately, the inclusion of these diverse vendors was essential for promoting holistic formation and inclusivity within the institution. Providing a variety of food and merchandise catered to the varied needs of a large student body, serving as a critical socio-cultural element of the week-long festivities. Even with the rain, the booths created natural, relaxed settings for students from all departments to socialize, bond over shared meals, and deepen their sense of camaraderie. This addition ensured that SIKLAB 2025 was more than just a competition; it was a comprehensive celebration that nourished the body, spirit, and social connections of every CSPCean, leaving a lasting legacy of unity despite the elements.

Benefits Derived:

- Students gained real-world experience in logistics and entrepreneurial coordination, bridging the gap between classroom theory and actual event management.
- The event strengthened ties with 17 local Bicolano enterprises, providing them a platform for growth while stimulating the campus economy.
- The booths served as vital social hubs that fostered inclusivity, allowing students from diverse departments to build camaraderie and lasting connections in a relaxed, festive environment.
