Excerpts of the Activity:

The security guards and utility staff of Camarines Sur Polytechnic Colleges (CSPC) are among the most visible yet frequently overlooked personnel on campus. By ensuring safety, maintaining cleanliness, and upholding order, these dedicated individuals create a stable environment that allows the academic community to focus entirely on learning and personal growth. Recognizing that their vital contributions are essential to the school's daily operations, the CSPC – Supreme Student Council (SSC) sought to honor their presence as the Christmas season approached.

To celebrate these "unsung heroes," the SSC officers organized and conducted a gift-giving activity entitled "Paskong CSPeCial: A Gift of Love to the Campus Heroes." The primary goal of this initiative was to provide immediate assistance to the campus security and utility personnel, as well as their families, through the distribution of food packs. This gesture served as a formal acknowledgment of their hard work and a sincere expression of gratitude from the student body for their tireless service to the CSPC community.

Beyond the distribution of tangible goods, the project was designed to rekindle the true spirit of the holidays, love, compassion, and unity. By extending this support, the SSC officers aimed to strengthen community bonds and elevate the holiday experience for the staff, ensuring they felt the warmth and appreciation they deserved. Ultimately, the event successfully highlighted the values of generosity and solidarity, proving that the heart of the Christmas season lies in recognizing and caring for those who keep the institution running every day.

Benefits Derived:

- Financial Relief: Provided practical assistance to staff and their families, easing the economic burden of holiday celebrations.
- Increased Morale: Validated the hard work of "unsung heroes," making them feel seen, respected, and valued by the student body.
- Campus Unity: Promoted social responsibility and fostered a stronger sense of solidarity between students and campus personnel.
